The School Psychological Service

The School Psychological Service (Schulpsychologischer Dienst (SPD)) of the City of Winterthur is a public counselling centre with the aim of supporting parents, children/young people and school professionals. We support solution processes in the areas of school and family in an interdisciplinary and resource-orientated manner. Our programme is aimed at children and young people of compulsory school age. Our services are free of charge for our clients and we are bound by professional confidentiality.

As psychologists, we see our work as preventative, advisory and supportive. We are guided by existing strengths and strive for effective, consensual and integrative solutions that focus on the healthy development of children and young people.
